- Parking: Parking is only $2! Also, special reserved parking for persons with special needs.
- Where: Renaissance Park ~ Harveysburg, Ohio - Conveniently located near Cincinnati, Dayton, and Columbus just minutes off I-71 or I-75 on State Route 73 in Warren County.
- Theme: This 30-acre permanent village has been authentically and historically re-created in the flavor of 16th Century England during the reign of Queen Elizabeth I.
- Entertainment: Visitors will see a full day of entertainment including full-armored Jousting the way it was done over 400 years ago by real Knights in shining armor. Queen Elizabeth I and her Royal Court preside over the festivities as dozens of Renaissance musicians, dancers, comedians, jugglers, sword-fighters, storytellers and hundreds of costumed performers entertain patrons of all ages on 12 stages in nearly 100 shows per day.
- Arts & Crafts: More than 135 crafts merchants display in this unique Medieval Marketplace. Master artisans demonstrate their timeless arts of glassblowing, jewelry making, blacksmithing, stone carving, leather crafting, weaving and more.
- Food & Drink: Giant Turkey Leggs, Steak-On-A-Stake, Stuffed Spuds, Bread Bowl Stews, Hearty Ales, Flavorful Wines, Delectable Desserts and Vegetarian selections offer even the most discriminating taste buds a true Taste of the Renaissance.
- Must See:
- * The Swordsmen – 2 itinerant gentlemen with sharp swords, quick reflexes and even quicker wits for an entertaining balance of comedy and the manly art of swordfighting.
 - * Knights of Valour, real knights in shining armor, do battle in 3 Jousting Tournaments each Festival day.
 - * Theatre In The Ground (aka The Mudde Show) presents literary classics with a comedic twist performed in Ohio's only Muditorium, where comedy meets Earth.

Test your skills in the gaming area or climb the 25' Castle Tower, then visit the Tower of London Dungeon of Doom. Eat, drink, shop, enjoy the shows, ride human-powered rides, and visit with Royalty at the 2009 Ohio Renaissance Festival.
